However, ROCKWOOL cannot guarantee that no deviations will occur in that respect. These statements shall therefore be considered approximations and are non-binding. Upon taking receipt of the Goods or upon provision of the Services, the Client is required to check compliance with the quantities, quality, performance and/or other properties specified by or agreed with ROCKWOOL.
- 5.2 Illustrations, descriptions, catalogues, brochures, advertising material, price lists and information and offers appearing on the website shall not be binding upon ROCKWOOL.
- 5.3 Minor deviations in colour, purity and quality shall under no circumstances give grounds for any complaint, refusal to accept the delivery or dissolution of the agreement, or delay in payment of the price.

- 5.4 All technical requirements imposed by the Client on the Goods to be delivered and which deviate from normal requirements must be specifically notified by the Client upon entering into the agreement.
- 5.5 If a model, sample and/or example is displayed or issued by ROCKWOOL, this shall be considered as only having been displayed or issued by way of indication. The properties of the Goods to be delivered may deviate from the sample, model and/or example, unless ROCKWOOL has expressly stated that delivery will be made in conformity with the sample, model and/or example displayed or issued.
- 5.6 The Client is required to carefully examine all samples, models and/or examples received from ROCKWOOL, whether or not at the request of the Client, for errors and defects, and to return said samples, models and/or examples to ROCKWOOL either corrected with due urgency, or approved.
- 5.7 Samples, models or examples approved by the Client shall be binding for the implementation of the order and shall serve as confirmation that previous work carried out on the samples, models or examples was undertaken soundly and in the correct manner. Products manufactured and work undertaken in conformity with the approved samples, models and/or examples may therefore not give grounds for complaints.
- 5.8 The Client must confirm that the Goods and/or Services ordered or to be ordered by the Client satisfy all government regulations imposed thereon in the country of destination, and are generally suitable for the use intended by the Client. The use of the Goods and Services and compliance with government provisions shall be for the risk of the Client.

The Client is required to provide all necessary cooperation, facilities and data for an inspection, examination or test to verify the obligations upon the Client appearing in this article, with regard to the use of the Goods by the Client and compliance with the legislation and regulations applicable upon the Client and its activities.
- 5.10 ROCKWOOL complies with all applicable EU, US, UN and national export control regulations prohibiting sale of certain products and services to certain countries, individual companies and/or persons. Complying with these export control regulations can never cause a default from ROCKWOOL.

Article 6 Intellectual Property

- 6.1 All copyrights, model rights, brand rights, patent rights, breeders' rights, database rights, semiconductor rights, portrait rights, rights to non-original literature, domain name rights, trade secrets and other (semi) intellectual property rights ('Intellectual Property') relating to the delivered Goods and/or Services, the design, the source code, the preparatory material and its names, and relating to anything developed, designed, manufactured or supplied by ROCKWOOL shall accrue to and remain exclusively with ROCKWOOL or its supplier. More specifically, ROCKWOOL is sole owner and right holder to the copyright that may arise due to compliance by ROCKWOOL with the work produced in fulfilling the agreement, also if the work in question appears as a separate item in the offer or on the invoice.
- 6.2 With respect to the Intellectual Property, the Client shall receive only a non-exclusive, non-transferrable, non-pledgeable user, non-licensable, restricted to what is necessary for use of the Goods and the result of the Services for the intended purpose, and exclusively for its own use. Unless otherwise agreed in writing, the Client shall not be permitted to reproduce, to convert or to otherwise process content, materials or parts of the Goods of Services.
- 6.3 The Client will in no way infringe the Intellectual Property.
- 6.4 In as far as necessary and in as far as the Intellectual Property does not already accrue to ROCKWOOL on the basis of the law, the Client hereby (in advance) transfers all Intellectual Property to ROCKWOOL, free of charge, and hereby delivers that property to ROCKWOOL or (if a transfer in advance is not legally possible), the Client will transfer all such rights to ROCKWOOL immediately following their establishment, free of charge. The Client will provide ROCKWOOL all requested cooperation and will hereby grant to ROCKWOOL irrevocable and unconditional authority to fulfil all formalities necessary to have the intellectual property registered in the name of ROCKWOOL, including but not restricted to the signing of all forms, deeds and agreements, without any costs arising for ROCKWOOL, as a consequence.

- 6.5 In as much as Intellectual Property can be acquired by an application or registration, ROCKWOOL shall be exclusively authorised.
- 6.6 If a dispute arises between ROCKWOOL and the Client concerning Intellectual Property, ROCKWOOL shall be assumed as being right holder, in the absence of evidence to the contrary from the Client.
- 6.7 The goods or or a material share of the goods to be supplied by ROCKWOOL according to its design may not be reproduced in the framework of any production process without the written approval of ROCKWOOL, even if or in as much as ROCKWOOL owns no copyright or enjoys no other legal protection on the goods.
- 6.8 ROCKWOOL is not required to keep the goods as intended in the first section of this article on behalf of the Client. If ROCKWOOL and the Client agree that these goods will be kept by ROCKWOOL, this shall take place for a maximum period of one year. ROCKWOOL will not guarantee the suitability of the goods for repeated use.
- 6.9 By issuing an order for the multiplication or reproduction of the item protected by Intellectual Property, the Client hereby declares that no infringement will be made of the intellectual property of third parties. The Client indemnifies ROCKWOOL in and out of law and for all costs and damages which may arise from any such infringement.

Article 7 Prices

- 7.1 The prices specified by ROCKWOOL or agreed with ROCKWOOL are Ex Works (Incoterms 2020) and excluding VAT and other government-imposed charges but including packaging costs, unless expressly agreed otherwise/in writing.
- 7.2 If ROCKWOOL accepts additional Services without a price having been specifically laid down in the agreement for those services, or if the order in question is below a scale/size determined by ROCKWOOL, ROCKWOOL shall be entitled to charge a reasonable fee for those Services.
- 7.3 If following the offer and/or the conclusion of an agreement, factors which determine the cost price including tax, duties, import charges, exchange rates, wages, prices of goods and/or services which may or may not be obtained by ROCKWOOL from third parties are altered, ROCKWOOL shall be entitled to duly adjust the prices.
- 7.4 If following the offer and/or the establishment of an agreement, exchange rate changes take place as a result of which the agreed prices in euro are higher, ROCKWOOL shall be authorised to charge on this price rise to the Client. However this represents no reason to adjust the prices in another currency.
- 7.5 If an order must be implemented according to a design, drawing or other instructions from the Client, ROCKWOOL shall be authorised to charge a separate price to the Client, for this service.

Article 8 Delivery times and delivery

- 8.1 The delivery times specified by and agreed with ROCKWOOL have been set approximately and may not be viewed as deadlines. Exceeding of a delivery time shall not require ROCKWOOL to pay compensation and shall not grant the Client the right to not comply with or suspend any obligations arising from the agreement. However, the Client is entitled to terminate the agreement if and in as much as ROCKWOOL has still failed to implement the order within a reasonable period provided by the Client. In that case, ROCKWOOL shall owe no compensation.
- 8.2 The delivery time is based on the working conditions applicable at the moment of entering into the agreement, and on timely delivery of the goods and/or services required by ROCKWOOL for complying with the agreement. If as a result of a change to working conditions and/or late delivery of goods and/services required by ROCKWOOL a delay occurs, the delivery time shall be extended by as long as necessary.
- 8.3 The delivery time will be extended by the duration of the delay occurring on the part of ROCKWOOL as a result of non-compliance by the Client with any obligation arising from the agreement or cooperation demanded of the Client with regard to implementation of the agreement.
- 8.4 ROCKWOOL will deliver the Goods Ex Works (Incoterms 2020) but will specify the manner in which and by whom the transport will be carried out. If at the request of the Client ROCKWOOL also undertakes the transport of the Goods to the Client or has transport undertaken, ROCKWOOL shall do so for the account and risk of the Client. The moment of risk transfer remains delivery Ex Works. If ROCKWOOL organises the transport, the Client is required to take receipt of the Goods immediately following arrival at the destination.
- 8.5 If the Client fails to collect the Goods/have them collected or does not take acceptance of the Goods on the agreed delivery date or within the agreed delivery period, they will be stored for the account and risk of the Client, for as long as ROCKWOOL considers this desirable.
- 8.6 ROCKWOOL will determine the manner in which the Services will be implemented and by which person(s), but will as far as possible take account of the wishes of the Client.
- 8.7 ROCKWOOL is authorised to implement an agreement in parts, and to demand payment for that part of the agreement that is implemented.

Article 9 ICT Services

- 9.1 If software applications, IaaS and/or IoT applications or application support ('ICT services') form part of the Good or Service, the provisions of this article shall also apply.

- 9.2 In identifying the intended use of the ICT services by the Client, the Client has sufficiently taken note of the feasibility of its objectives, the suitability of its system and the restrictions on the ICT services. ROCKWOOL shall accept no liability in respect of the selection or suitability of any ICT service.
- 9.3 Prior to commissioning, ROCKWOOL will offer the Client the opportunity to undertake an acceptance test to be specified by ROCKWOOL, lasting a maximum of ten days (if necessary following connection with the Client's systems) to test the correct functioning within its own environment. Reproducible errors that arise during the test will be rectified by ROCKWOOL, free of charge. In all other respects, the Client shall accept the ICT service 'as is' which it is supplied, with the exception of material and visible defects. Non acceptance of any module or part shall be without prejudice to the obligation to accept the other parts of the ICT service. Repair work following expiry of the acceptance period shall represent a separate payable ICT service.
- 9.4 Unless expressly otherwise agreed, ROCKWOOL is authorised to charge its standard rates for all time spent on providing an ICT service. Maintenance, support and user training are not included in the price for the delivery of an ICT service, unless agreed in writing.
- 9.5 In the event of termination, for a charge to be determined by ROCKWOOL, ROCKWOOL will provide all reasonable cooperation in migration to a subsequent service provider and if so demanded by the Client will establish all necessary links with the systems of the subsequent service provider, subject to the condition that confidentiality of ROCKWOOL's data is guaranteed.

Article 10 Force Majeure

- 10.1 If ROCKWOOL is prevented from complying with the agreement due to force majeure, ROCKWOOL shall be entitled to suspend implementation of the agreement. In that case, the Client shall have no right to compensation of damage, costs or interest.
- 10.2 Force majeure shall among others be taken to mean: extreme weather conditions, fire, flooding, accident, staff illness or strike, epidemic or pandemic and/or government measures adopted in the context thereof, business disruption, stagnation in transport, power failure, cyber terrorism or similar cyber attacks, security incidents, intentional or accidental corruption or loss of data, disrupting legal provisions, export restrictions, problems in production or transport of the Goods unforeseen by ROCKWOOL, and late delivery of goods or services by third parties hired by ROCKWOOL, and other circumstances beyond the control of ROCKWOOL.
- 10.3 In the event of a force majeure situation, ROCKWOOL shall be authorised to terminate the non-implementable part of the agreement, by written notice. If the force majeure situation lasts longer than 6 weeks, the Client shall also be authorised to terminate the non-implementable part of the agreement, by written notice.

- 10.4 If at the start of the force majeure situation ROCKWOOL has already partially fulfilled its obligations or is only able to partially fulfil its obligations, it shall be entitled to separately invoice all that which has been delivered or the part to be delivered, and the Client shall be required to pay this invoice as if it related to a separate agreement.

In the absence of a timely complaint, any liability of ROCKWOOL shall expire.
